

Young Adult Lives His Faith in Helping Hurricane Victims

A former youth representative to the District Board (1999-2000) and member of the First Unitarian Society of Plainfield (NJ), Justin Fertig is now working with the Common Ground Coalition in New Orleans LA. This is an all volunteer organization that provides services to anyone that has a need in the Hurricane relief area. This hands on operation receives no official money and works solely on donations. Justin spoke to the Society on Christmas Eve about his experiences and how great the need is. The evening's offertory was designated to go to several organizations that will help the people of Mississippi and Louisiana.
