

New Website and Titles for UUA Bookstore

The UUA recently launched its newly redesigned UUA Bookstore online and great new titles are also available! The new Bookstore online offers easy shopping, a great search function, and easy access to products.

Check out these new titles from the UUA and Skinner House Books:

"Come Into the Circle: Worshiping with Children" by Michelle Richards: a comprehensive how-to guide on children's worship. It includes a generous selection of child-friendly worship resources, including chalice lightings, stories, sermons, songs, closing words and more. (Skinner House) $15. <http://www.uuabookstore.org/productdetails.cfm?PC=579>

"Worship That Works: Theory and Practice for Unitarian Universalists" by Wayne Arnason and Kathleen Rolenz is full of practical advice for worship leaders gleaned from the authors' sabbatical road-trip study of innovative worship styles and practices. Arnason and Rolenz "offer useful guidelines for designing intergenerational worship and distill the current wisdom on incorporating word, music and ritual from diverse cultures in a respectful and non-oppressive manner. (Skinner House) $16. <http://www.uuabookstore.org/productdetails.cfm?PC=673>

"The Fellowship Movement: A Growth Strategy and Its Legacy" by Holley Ulbrich tells the history of the twenty-year experiment in do-it-yourself religion that gave birth to more than a third of today's Unitarian Universalist congregations. "Ulbrich's thorough and comprehensive history offers answers and insights pertinent to today's growth efforts." - Patti Lawrence, Professor of Congregational Studies, Starr King School for the Ministry (Skinner House) $14. <http://www.uuabookstore.org/productdetails.cfm?PC=615>

"A Wind Swept Over the Waters: Reflections on 60 Favorite Bible Passages" by John Nichols is a fresh take on well-known and beloved passages from the Old and New Testaments. (Skinner House) $15. <http://www.uuabookstore.org/productdetails.cfm?PC=675>

"How to Bury a Goldfish - And Other Ceremonies and Celebrations for Everyday Life" by Virginia Lang and Louise Nayer offers more than 100 new traditions and simple rituals to instill mindfulness and grace into the special moments and milestones of everyday life. (Skinner House) $15. <http://www.uuabookstore.org/productdetails.cfm?PC=614>

"Stories in Faith: Exploring Our Unitarian Universalist Principles and Sources Through Wisdom Tales" by Gail Forsyth-Vail illuminates our seven Principles and six Sources with nineteen tales from different cultures and faith traditions. (UUA) $15. <http://www.uuabookstore.org/productdetails.cfm?PC=758>