

UU Congregation of Danbury Youth Creates “Censored” Service

The Senior High Youth Group of the UU Congregation of Danbury (CT) will present a service to the congregation on May 20 at the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. services. The service theme is brainstormed and refined, readings researched or written, and music chosen or performed by the youth with the facilitation of the Youth Advisors, among them Randy Smith, and the Director of Religious Education, Mary Collins, when asked for resources or opinions. The youth-led services are always well received for their point of view, their musical choices, and their unique and refreshing style.

As the invitation to the congregation explained, “On Sunday, May 20 the Senior High Youth Group will present a service called ‘Censored.’ In so many ways our world is shaped by what we _____ and don’t _____. All of us have felt the frustration and been _____ by what we see in the news or hear the _____ who control the information we receive. Come and hear what the youth of our congregation have to say about it, and why they feel it is their _____ to say what’s on their mind.”
